Hi Saruta-San,

Hope you are doing good. Refer email chain below. We need action on the following points from Japan team.

1. Confirmation on the list of documents that we have identified as part of mandatory documents the team must complete during any project execution.
2. Machine translation of only those document templates that have been identified by our team as per the activate phases. (As of now only first two phases)

Please let me know if you want a discussion with Fujitsu Japan SAP Activate team on the Integration of the Activate Methodology.

Hi Pramod,

Request you to please help here.

Thanks & Regards,

Thank you for your reply.

Is that possible to estimate a potential timeline for the machine translation of complete set of documents?

Dear Pramod,
Appreciate your support with identifying the person who could assist with translation review of documents once these are ready.

Hi Alexsandra,

- Further on Nilesh's e-mail, could you please confirm that has been already agreed within JGG on the mandatory/optional list proposal (see point 2) ?

I missed the e-mail from Nilesh. I would check with Ookubo-san.

- For the machine translation activity, can we consider the documents which are to be shortly shared with us in English are also reviewed by a SME, not only relying on machine translation? The intention is to eliminate any potential translation-errors.

Unfortunately No, what I can do with my colleague in GDC India is to do machine translation only, at this moment.

I believe that Pramod-san will find bilingual person and ask him/her to improve translation quality, so that SME such as Nilesh A can review it.

Best regards,

Kenji

Hello Saruta-San,

Thank you for confirming the approval of Export Control. Refer PPT link Japan SLM Integration - SAP Standardization Proposal Template.pptx

Refer slide number 13.

1. We as a team finalized the list of document templates that are mandatory for the project to complete documentation.
2. Request you to please check with Ookubo-San and check the list of documents that we have finalized. Add remove any documents that you may find necessary. This process will compare the documents with non Japan and Japan. Based on your recommendation we will finalize the list of mandatory documents.
3. We will have to translate only those documents which are finalized as per point 2 and slide 13. Please translate only those documents in English. Also please name the documents the same as mentioned in slide 13. This will help us connect with Fujitsu Activate 3.0 documents easily.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Hi David,

Thanks for your feedback. I agree we should review the GDSL Process template and general one in light of SAP Activate and the partner structure for consistency and ease of maintenance.

Let's discuss this briefly on our call later today and get some initial thoughts. If needed, we can raise it within the wider team for a deeper dive.

I agree with the use of the GDSL Process template, however would suggest that the more general template needs to be looked at in the light of the SAP Activate content.
I anticipate that we should adapt either the GDSL or DSS Delivery Standard template to accommodate the partner structure – in order to remain consistent with SAP Activate, as well as to make future maintenance as easy as possible.

Suggest that we look that both sets of documentation to agree.

    - Lukasz presented a "library process template" and explained its intended use for subject-related document creation.
    - Nilesh estimated that approximately 60 or more documents would need to be adapted to this new template, proposing a distribution of work among Subject Matter Experts (SMEs).

    - Document template editing functionality was clarified during the call; Lukasz will verify this for PowerPoint and Excel.

2. Document Ownership & Review Process

    - Questions were raised regarding the ownership of documents and the overall document creation process.
    - Discussion included the need for clarification on whether a standard global team exists for document review and approval.

3. Export Control Status and Japanese Document Translation

    - Export Control approval is completed.

    - Nilesh detailed the need for Japanese document translation (especially those from "prepare" and "explore" phases) to facilitate comparison and mapping with existing English templates.

4. Japanese Document Mapping Process

    - Nilesh guided Julia through a PowerPoint presentation, indicating documents the Japanese team already possesses (marked in yellow) versus those they do not (marked in grey).
    - He emphasized that accurate mapping and comparison of templates could only proceed once relevant Japanese documents are translated into English.
    - Julia acknowledged the dependency on machine translation for providing necessary English versions.

5. Dependencies

- Availability of English translations of Japanese documents for comparison and mapping.

6. Immediate Priorities:

- Initiate with leadership to establish the strategy for template adoption, document ownership, and review.
- Lukasz to confirm the editing functionality for PowerPoint and Excel templates.

I missed the e-mail from Nilesh. I would check with Ookubo-san.

Unfortunately No, what I can do with my colleague in GDC India is to do machine translation only, at this moment.

I believe that Pramod-san will find bilingual person and ask him/her to improve translation quality, so that SME such as Nilesh A can review it.

Further on Nilesh's e-mail, could you please confirm that has been already agreed within JGG on the mandatory/optional list proposal (see point 2) ?

For the machine translation activity, can we consider the documents which are to be shortly shared with us in English are also reviewed by a SME, not only relying on machine translation? The intention is to eliminate any potential translation-errors.

Thank you in advance for your reply.

Best regards,

Aleksandra

Hi Alexsandra,

- Further on Nilesh's e-mail, could you please confirm that has been already agreed within JGG on the mandatory/optional list proposal (see point 2) ?

I missed the e-mail from Nilesh. I would check with Ookubo-san.

Unfortunately No, what I can do with my colleague in GDC India is to do machine translation only, at this moment.

I believe that Pramod-san will find bilingual person and ask him/her to improve translation quality, so that SME such as Nilesh A can review it.

Best regards,

Kenji

Subject: Re: JSLMI - SAP - Stand up

Dear all,
Please find meeting notes from today's call:

Key Topics Discussed:

1. Document Template Standardization and Usage
    - Discussion centered on the necessity of standardizing document creation across Word, Excel, and PowerPoint using approved templates.
    - Lukasz presented a "library process template" and explained its intended use for subject-related document creation.
    - Nilesh estimated that approximately 60 or more documents would need to be adapted to this new template, proposing a distribution of work among Subject Matter Experts (SMEs).
    - Document template editing functionality was clarified during the call; Lukasz will verify this for PowerPoint and Excel.
2. Document Ownership & Review Process
    - Questions were raised regarding the ownership of documents and the overall document creation process.
    - Discussion included the need for clarification on whether a standard global team exists for document review and approval.
3. Export Control Status and Japanese Document Translation
    - Export Control approval is completed.

- Nilesh detailed the need for Japanese document translation (especially those from "prepare" and "explore" phases) to facilitate comparison and mapping with existing English templates.

4. Japanese Document Mapping Process

    - Nilesh guided Julia through a PowerPoint presentation, indicating documents the Japanese team already possesses (marked in yellow) versus those they do not (marked in grey).
    - He emphasized that accurate mapping and comparison of templates could only proceed once relevant Japanese documents are translated into English.
    - Julia acknowledged the dependency on machine translation for providing necessary English versions.

5. Dependencies
    - Availability of English translations of Japanese documents for comparison and mapping.

6. Immediate Priorities:

    - Initiate with leadership to establish the strategy for template adoption, document ownership, and review.
    - Lukasz to confirm the editing functionality for PowerPoint and Excel templates.

Action Items

Action	Owner	Due Date
Verify with David if the proposed template meets delivery standards and if the team should proceed with its implementation	@Staniewicz, Julia, @Steven, David	After the call/ In Progress
Check other formats (PowerPoint and Excel) for similar editing issues observed in the Word template.	@Filipiak, Lukasz	After the call

@ALL
Please ensure that any stories and actions assigned to you are kept up to date in the backlog. Regular updates are critical for tracking progress and supporting prioritization across upcoming iterations.

These minutes were prepared based on the meeting transcript from 26 February 2026 with the help of ChatAI.
